

Public Review Comment Period: July 13, 2018, to August 27, 2018

How to Submit Your Comments

All interested parties have the opportunity to provide comments to the California Department of Food and Agriculture (CDFA) on the proposed cannabis cultivation regulations before they are officially adopted. CDFA's CalCannabis Cultivation Licensing Division will hold four public-comment hearings: three in July 2018 and one in August 2018. The Notice of Proposed Action was published on Friday, July 13, 2018, which initiated the formal public review and comment period: the last day for submitting public comments by mail or email is Monday, August 27, 2018, by 5pm (PST).

To review the proposed cannabis cultivation regulations, please visit the CalCannabis Cultivation Licensing website: cannabis.cdfa.ca.gov.

3 Provide Comments In Person

Attend a public hearing to provide your comments verbally or in writing.
(Hearing dates and locations are listed at right.)

How to Make Effective Comments

Be concise and focus on the proposed cultivation regulations.

Identify the specific part of the proposed cultivation regulations you are commenting on (if possible, indicate the regulation section number you are referring to).

Include supporting evidence and facts, and provide complete references and/or citations, particularly if you are referring to a website (for example, provide the specific website url).

Only comments submitted via the methods listed above will be considered as formal comments. Statements or verbal comments made to CDFA staff are not considered formal comments. Formal verbal comments may be heard only at the official CDFA public hearings.

All comments received on the proposed cannabis cultivation regulations during the 45-day comment period will be considered by the California Department of Food and Agriculture.

Please Note: No final decisions have been made about the proposed cannabis cultivation regulations; final decisions will occur only after the formal public review and comment period has ended.
